

Countable Nouns:

Countable nouns are objects, people, etc., that can be counted as individual units. They have both singular and plural forms.

Examples:

- Dog (singular) → Dogs (plural)
- Book (singular) → Books (plural)
- Chair (singular) → Chairs (plural)

Uncountable Nouns:

Uncountable nouns refer to things that cannot be counted as individual units. They are often considered as a whole or mass.

Examples:

- Water (uncountable)
- Sugar (uncountable)
- Advice (uncountable)

Differences:

- Countable nouns have both singular and plural forms, while uncountable nouns only have one form.
- Countable nouns can be used with numbers (e.g., one book, two dogs), while uncountable nouns cannot be used with numbers directly.

Summary Chart:

Type	Example (Singular)	Example (Plural)
Countable	Book	Books
	Chair	Chairs
	Dog	Dogs
Uncountable	Water	-
	Sugar	-
	Advice	-